

IMPORTANT PRODUCT UPDATE

Why Savage Beverages Are Temporarily Paused

A clear update on our Texas operations, Missouri transition, and active subscriptions.

Savage Beverages are paused for now - but this is not a permanent goodbye.

What's Happening?

Due to recent regulatory changes in Texas, Savage Beverage sales are temporarily paused while we move production and fulfillment to a new facility in Missouri.

Savage Beverages are currently made and shipped from Texas. These changes affect our ability to produce, store, and fulfil certain hemp products from the state, so our current Texas-based setup is no longer workable.

Our team has been preparing this out-of-state transition so we can continue serving you across most of the country. Once the new operation is ready, we plan to bring Savage Beverages back in eligible states.

What This Means for Your Subscription

All active Savage Beverage subscriptions will be discontinued during this transition.

You will not be charged for future Savage subscription orders while the products are unavailable.

When Savage Beverages return, you will need to start a new subscription to continue regular deliveries.
